RESEARCH

- Fall 2024 - Boston College Lai Lab, Chestnut Hill, MA
Current Lynch School of Education and Human Development Dissertation Fellow
Dissertation Committee: Drs. Betty S. Lai (chair), Kit Baum, Summer S. Hawkins, and Eric Dearing
Funding: Boston College Lynch School of Education Doctoral Dissertation Fellowship

Project Title: Cumulative Disaster Exposure and Youth Depression and Suicidality

- Proposed in April 2024. Expected to defend in early Spring 2025.
- Evaluate the impact of cumulative weather-related disaster exposure on youth depression and suicidality in a large and diverse sample of youth across the United States using mixed effects multilevel regression modeling.

Fall 2020 -
Current

Boston College Lai Lab, Chestnut Hill, MA

Graduate Research Assistant

Supervisor: Betty S. Lai, PhD

Funding: COVID-19 and Mental Health Working Group Quick Response Grant, Natural Hazards Center (NSF Award #1635593); The Boston College Schiller Institute for Integrated Science and Society Exploratory Collaborative Scholarship Grant; Research Expense Grant Funds; Schiller Institute Grants for Exploratory Collaborative Scholarship

- Collaborate on studies assessing social, emotional, and health outcomes of children, adolescents, and young adults who have experienced disasters and other traumatic stressors.

Spring 2024

Harvard Medical School/McLean Hospital OCD Institute for Children and Adolescents, Belmont, MA

Clinical Researcher

Supervisors: Alyssa L. Faro, PhD & Maria G. Fraire, PhD

- Evaluated program outcomes within the patient population. Mentored bachelor's-level staff and led data cleaning and statistical analysis of two projects accepted for presentation at local and national conferences.

Summer
2018 -
Summer
2020

Harvard Medical School/Massachusetts General Hospital Division of Child & Adolescent Psychiatry, Boston, MA

Clinical Research Coordinator

Supervisors: J. Michael Murphy, EdD & Michael Jellinek, MD

Funding: The Fuss Family Fund

Summer
2018 -
Summer
2020

Harvard Medical School/Shriners Hospitals for Children Department of Clinical Research, Boston, MA

Clinical Research Coordinator

Supervisors: Robert Sheridan, MD & J. Michael Murphy, EdD

Funding: Shriners Hospitals for Children Grant #72003

- Led the completion of research studies focused on long-term outcomes of children with burn injuries and the use of an online CBT tool for adolescents with appearance-related social-anxiety.

Summer
2017 -
Spring 2018

Wellesley College Department of Sociology, Wellesley, MA

Honors Candidate in Sociology

Advisor: Markella Rutherford, PhD

Funding: Wellesley College Multicultural Research Grant

Project Title: "Not Just a White Woman's Disease": Radicalizing Eating Disorder Knowledge

- Interviewed clinicians and prepared clinical materials for clinical staff. Conducted a content analysis on eating disorder narratives by ethnically and racially diverse cisgender women.

2017

Multi-Service Eating Disorders Association (MEDA), Newton, MA

Volunteer Intern and Researcher

Advisor: Markella Rutherford, PhD

Funding: Oprah Winfrey Grant for Volunteerism, Wellesley College

- Authored psychoeducational blog posts and planned community events.

Spring 2016

Wellesley College Child Study Center, Wellesley, MA

Undergraduate Researcher

Advisor: Tracy Gleason, PhD

- Designed and completed a study on parent body esteem and preschoolers' body type preferences.

Fall 2015 -
Spring 2017

Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Department of Brain and Cognitive Sciences, Cambridge, MA

Undergraduate Research Assistant in Dr. Rebecca Saxe's Social Cognitive Neuroscience Laboratory

Supervisor: Hilary Richardson, PhD & Rebecca Saxe, PhD

Funding: Roberta Day Staley and Karl A. Staley Fund; Wellesley College Summer Science Research Award

- Assisted in fMRI scanning and behavioral testing for three studies evaluating Theory of Mind development.
